Data first, then design. Phoca Particles module works in the opposite way to page builders. In page builders you build the design, then add content. In Phoca Particles module you add data (content) and then you can change the design according to the needs.